Espolòn Flagship

When our client approached us with this project, the initial challenge was addressing its significant weight. The display we created is 6' x 8', with a steel structure and large acrylic piece. We set out to produce a frame that would be able to support the heavy acrylic pane. It was determined that the display should be modular, with two equal fitting pieces, and under 100lbs. After designing two different prototypes to achieve this goal, we successfully re-engineered the frame's structure to be more lightweight, as well as knocked down into smaller master cartons. The first prototype was 140lbs and the second one was 90lbs. The final version of the display was still structurally sound, very stable, and supportive.

Modelo Trophy

Our Client was looking to update and evolve the soccer goalpost display they'd been utilizing for the last few years. The direction we were given was soccer-inspired, while avoiding a display that was too literal or 'real'. The client loved our trophy concept, and our challenge was to determine the best material to make a 50" trophy that was lightweight and easily portable. We sourced the perfect material, a reinforced fiberglass, similar to material used for mannequins. The final piece is durable, sturdy, lightweight and with a glossy finish, making this a display centerpiece.

Aperol Spritz Display Cart

Our client requested a functioning display that could easily be wheeled around in-store. They also wanted the flexibility to be able to retail Prosecco as well as Aperol. The client specifically wanted the cart to hold product in retail, but also retain the ability to act as an authentic “bar cart” once the product is taken out of the piece. We designed the cart with removable top wires, so when adjusted the top shelf becomes an open, flat area to display product. The cart was so well received, several Campari employees ordered these carts for their own personal use!

Aperol Spritz Trike

The Aperol Spritz Trike was one of our more unique projects for Campari that presented a few initial challenges. We had to be diligent about budget due to the complex design and development process. Additionally, the trike had to be scalable to accommodate displays in different sized retail environments. With the budget in mind, our goal was to have the trike appear as realistic as possible. We vacuum formed the front wheel, implemented vinyl chrome decal windows and incorporated realistic pop out lights. The bed of the trike was designed to be scalable, meaning it moved in and out to make the overall body bigger or smaller as needed. It held as little as 12 cartons up to 36 cartons. Even with all these customizable features, this piece can still be assembled in 5 minutes or less.

SKYY Infusions Display

For this project, our client requested a modern, elevated display with a small footprint. The display required the capacity to hold 4 cases and 8 different SKUs, so we developed 4 flavor channel strips, allowing 8 flavors total (by incorporating double sided channel strips). This way, the display could hold whatever combination of flavors that the particular store/retail location offers.

Golden Road Fruit Cart Basket

Simply put, this project was presented as “you know those beer buckets you get by the pool? We want that, but not that...better!” The client was open and flexible on how to approach this concept, so we presented them with different designs that would be feasible to properly manufacture. We were able to narrow down to a render that the client loved and was successfully produced.

Simi Wine Topper

The client requested an elevated display, reminiscent of Pottery Barn, with the incorporation of greenery to give it a natural, but upscale presentation. After a few rounds of design, we moved forward with the built out wooden letters. The client loved the display, and they even modified the greenery in the letters for the holidays.

Meiommi Golf Display

Meiommi Wines wanted to expand its partnership with the PGA through an eye-catching display that incorporated the PGA brand while staying true to their own iconic label and shape. We included golf elements while maintaining the integrity of the Meiommi brand. The diecut metal letters have become a consistent fixture on all Meiommi displays.

Simi Barrel Display

Simi Brands wanted to expand their barrel display for accounts that required a smaller footprint. The challenge was how to capture the essence of the barrel into a stand-alone display. Using the barrel head as inspiration we created a display that highlighted the logo on the barrel head and enabled the brand to be stacked under the top for maximum visibility. Due to the success of this display, we created a corrugate version using the same design.

Unshackled Display

Playing off the success of The Prisoner Wine, Constellation Brands launched Unshackled using a similar style display to The Prisoner Wine brand. Elegant yet rustic was the goal of the display and the bottles are showcased like they are in a premium wooden gift box. The use of natural pine and a rustic stain finish made it the perfect display for the product launch.

VAPs (Value Added Packages)

VAPs (Value Added Packages)

VAPs are a large part of retail sales and give the client an opportunity to showcase their brands outside of the shelf. It gives the consumer a reason to purchase the product while receiving a gift as part of the purchase. IRG not only designs the VAP, we produce and have a bonded warehouse to kit and fulfill the complete package.

Innovations (5D printing)

5D Printing

5D is a revolutionary technology that makes flat surfaces look 5D. This technology is the first and only of its kind and you will not find it anywhere else in the world. Our captivating work will help your home, business, trade shows and more stand out from the rest and ensures to bring any space to life. These innovative, unique pieces will leave a lasting impression on anybody that encounters them.

- Printed on thin substrate
- Precise cuts & heat bend capabilities
- Built to last
- Ultra-radiant color printing

Sustainable Materials

DISPA

DISPA® are the sustainable display boards for screen and digital printing. They are made of FSC® certified paper (FSC® C127595) and are 100% recyclable. Thanks to the non directional core layer of DISPA® display boards, they provide optimal flatness and dimensional stability yet are still lightweight. The equally high level of rigidity – lengthwise and crosswise – is one of the main advantages over corrugated cardboard.

MDF Rice Straw

In California, rice straw is replacing wood as a raw material in medium- and high-density fiberboards while making use of an agricultural waste product. CalPlant 1 will use waste straw from the local rice harvest to create formaldehyde-free medium-density fiberboard (MDF) and high-density fiberboard (HDF). These low-carbon, low-emitting panels are better for the environment, have better performance, and could be a game changer in the interior panel industry.
